FTVP - Film, Television and Video Production | Undergrad

FTVP 3599 Independent Study in Film, Television or Video Production (1-12)

Independent study involves research work on a specialized subject or project, artistic work, or study of an interdisciplinary nature. In contrast to a practicum, the emphasis in an independent study is usually an individual pursuit of a specific content area. Requires the filing of official form and permission of instructor. May be repeated for credit if content differs.

FTVP 4200 Senior Capstone A (3)

Provides an opportunity for seniors to demonstrate their proficiency in a selected area of film and video production. The student assumes responsibility for the production of a project under the direction of a faculty member. Projects may include executing a video or media production or concentrating on a skills-based creative leadership role such as producing, cinematography, editing, visual effects, production design, etc. Prerequisite: FTVP 3500, senior standing.

FTVP 4210 Senior Capstone B (3)

Provides an opportunity for seniors to demonstrate their proficiency in all aspects of film and video production by directing a short film. The student may take on extra roles and responsibilities or assemble a crew based on their needs. The student assumes responsibility for the production of a project under the direction of a faculty member. Prerequisites: FTVP 3510 Pre-Production, Senior standing.

FTVP 4950 Graduate Independent Study (1-3)

This course exists so that currently enrolled graduate students can take existing FTVP courses below the 4000-level, but do work at the graduate level. Course selections must be approved by the Chair of the department and Graduate Program Director. The independent study would require the production of work at an advanced level.
